ABSTRACT

This memorandum provides information about students granted financial aid in the University of Wisconsin (UW) system in 2000-2001 and earlier years. The total financial aid provided UW students was $497.8 million, up $29.8 million from 1999-2000. Total loan dollars for UW students were up $17.5 million from 1999-2000 to $340.3 million. Total grant dollars provided UW students, $146.3 million, were up $12.5 million from 1999-2000. Of the financial aid, 81% was from federal sources, and 8% came from state sources. Five percent was received from institutional sources. The number of students receiving aid, 84,217, was up 317 from 1999-2000, The percentage of undergraduates receiving aid, 56%, was up 1 percentage point from 1999-2000, and the percent of graduate students receiving aid, 36%, also increased. Some 66% of financial aid recipients were dependent students; 26% were independent. Sixty percent of resident undergraduates have student loan debt at graduation, down 3 percentage points from 1999-2000. The average loan debt at graduation was $15,611. Six appendixes contain detailed tables of student financial aid information. (Contains 17 tables.) (SLD)

OVERVIEW OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID TRENDS

Overall, 84,217 UW students, 54 percent of total enrollment, received $497.8 million in financial aid in 2000-01 (Table 1). Compared to 1999-00, the number of financial aid recipients increased by 317 and dollars increased by 29.8 million. More than one-half of the undergraduate students (56%) received some financial aid (including non-need based aid) in 2000-01.

SOURCES OF AID FOR UW STUDENTS

Almost five of every six financial aid dollars (81%) to UW students were provided or underwritten through a federal program (Table 2). Aid from state sources represented less than one-tenth (8%) of all aid. Institutional aid accounted for five percent of the aid received by UW students. Institutional aid is made up primarily of scholarships funded through sources such as private donations to UW institutions.

LOANS

Loan aid continues to make up the largest component of financial aid to UW students. Loan dollars make up 68% of total financial aid dollars and 79% of financial aid recipients received some kind of loan (Table 3). Forty-three percent of enrolled UW students received a loan in 2000-01.

GRANTS

Grant aid made up 29% of financial aid dollars and 53% of financial aid recipients received a grant of some kind in 2000-01 (Table 4). The proportion of grant dollars to total aid remained constant from the past year although the percentage of financial aid recipients who receive grants decreased three percentage points from 1999-00. However, the proportion of grant dollars to total aid remains well below that of the late 1980s and early 1990s.

In 2000-01, federal grants comprised the majority of grants (48%) received by UW students followed by state grants at 25% (Figure 1). Grants in the "other" category are provided by other states to non-resident students.

The largest need based state grant program available to Wisconsin residents attending a UW institution is the Wisconsin Higher Education Grant (WHEG). Slightly more than one out of every seven resident undergraduate students (16%) received a WHEG award in 2000-01 (Table 5). Other state grant programs are described in Appendix D.

FEDERAL WORK STUDY

In 2000-01, $11.2 million dollars were provided through the Federal Work Study (FWS) program, a work program that includes both federal and state contributions. In 2000-01, 8,986 students participated in this program which accounted for 2% of all financial aid dollars (Table 6).

CHARACTERISTICS OF FINANCIAL AID RECIPIENTS

Twenty-six percent of all aid recipients, 20% of undergraduate students and 87% of graduate students, were independent students (Table 7). A higher percentage of non-resident undergraduate students are dependent (76%) compared to resident undergraduate students (71%).

Sixty-three percent of all enrolled UW students of color received some form of financial aid in 2000-01 (Table 8). Eighty-four percent of these students had demonstrated financial need as defined by the Federal Needs Analysis Methodology.

STUDENT INDEBTEDNESS

UW resident undergraduate students who received loans (both need and non need-based) during their academic careers, had an average debt of $15,611 at graduation in 2000-01 (Table 9). This represents a 2% increase from 1999-00. The proportion of resident undergraduate debt coming from non-need based loan programs increased slightly after last year's decrease. Sixty percent (60%) of resident undergraduate students who graduated in 2000-01 had loan debt at graduation compared to 57% of graduates five years ago. Table 10 shows cumulative student loan debt by UW institution.

Although the percentage of students graduating with loan debt has increased in the past few years, the student loan default rate for UW students (2.4%) is the lowest is has been in the past eight years (Table 11). The student loan default rate for UW graduates is significantly lower than the student loan default rate of all borrowers nationally showing that the great majority of student loan borrowers are able and committed to making their loan payments.

TECHNICAL NOTES

This Informational Memorandum presents annual data on the amount of financial assistance provided to UW System students. Unless otherwise noted, figures are based on student financial aid data provided to UW System Administration by the UW institutions via the Financial Aid Central Data Request (CDR). The total number of aid recipient figures represent the total number of students (undergraduate, graduate, residents, non-residents) receiving any type of financial aid (with exceptions noted below). Students often received more than one type of aid so the cumulative total for students aided through grant, work, and loan programs will not equal the grand total. Other important caveats include:

- Details in the text and tables may not add due to rounding.
- The data reported in this Informational Memorandum do not include graduate assistantships or fellowships and tuition remission grants.
- Work study includes only dollars provided through the Federal Work Study program and ROTC. It does not capture other on-campus and off-campus employment.
- Loan data do not include private non-federally-guaranteed borrowing activity.
- Residency for fee-purposes is determined by the Office of the Registrar at each institution. Non-residents are defined as all students with residency other than "resident" including Minnesota and Michigan reciprocity agreement students. Students with missing residency information have been included with Wisconsin residents.
- Graduate enrollment includes enrollment in professional programs.
- Financial need is defined by Federal Needs Analysis methodology.
- Dependency status is defined by Federal Needs Analysis methodology and specifications.
